Please be advised that a group of retired federal law enforcement officers has won a lawsuit they filed against the State of New Jersey last spring, challenging New Jersey's refusal to abide by the policies of the Law Enforcement Officers Safety Act (LEOSA) also known as HR-218. While the State of New Jersey certainly has the right to appeal the court's decision in the case, effective today the policies and procedures contained in LEOSA HR-218 are now in effect. We will post the specifics of the court's findings as soon as we receive same.
